ad – the great highway that shaped history – draws he heart of the modern Turkic World. Ninety perld's 142 million Turkic speakers live along its course, th and 45th parallels. Turkic speakers are the majoristretching from Turkey through Central Asia to hina. They share four great things in common: a land, the Silk Road; a common culture, Turkic; a ge, the boiling cauldron of Central Asia; a common 5 Turkic Window for Christ.

The land now known as Central Asia, which lies at the heart of the Silk Road, was once called Turkestan. Marco Polo, the first European to travel the length of the Silk Road, called it the Province of Greater Turkey. When Russia and China split Central Asia in two, the western half became Russian Turkestan, and the eastern part Chinese Turkestan. Until recently, most of the Turkic peoples living between Turkey and eastern Turkestan called themselves Turkestanis or Turkis. These are the peoples calling out to us from the 35/45 Turkic Window.

A common Turkic identity as a political agenda is not shared by all the Turkic peoples of the Turkic Window. In the wake of the Cold War, Islam uses Turkic affinities of language and culture as a unifying force. While recognizing the Turkic cultural affinity, Christians should also be sensitive to ethnic identities. Azeris and Turks are different from each other, and Uzbeks and Uyghurs are distinct, despite their similarities. Greater than the need for a national identity, however, is the common spiritual need for salvation. Today, God is working in a fresh and powerful way among all the Turkic peoples of the 35/45 Turkic Window.

When we focus prayer and partnerships on the 35/45 Turkic Window, we are asking God to impact all the Turkic and non-Turkic peoples who live along the old Silk Road. We also are asking God's people worldwide to pray and participate with the Holy Spirit's call to go into the 35/45 Turkic Window. As you learn about this region, ask God three questions: How can I pray? Where can I go? What can I do?

In the Turkic Window there may be lots of old, crumbling buildings, muddy streets and messed up lives. But is also there something beautiful: the fragrance of Christ in the lives of new believers."

As a Turkic beliver so eloquently put it: "The Turkic World is the gateway to the most resistant peoples on earth. But Jesus has opened a door that no man can shut. It's time to call on God's people to step through that door with their prayer and with their professions, empowering those within to reach their world for Him."
