

The 4/14 Window's

the First 7 Years MILESTONES

The first milestones of the 4/14 initiative have been like rainfall on the barren land of this world.

Introduction: Our topic is The 4/14 Window's First Seven Years Milestones. This is not an attempt to write a history of the 4/14 Movement but rather to capture the catalytic move of the Holy Spirit in and through the lives of God's servants in relation to the 4/14ers.

The dictionary defines a milestone as an action or an event marking a significant change or stage in development. In our case the word milestone relates to key historical events that contributed significantly to the development of the 4/14 Movement. Clearly God is doing more than we have seen or heard.

The Scriptures describe just that kind of a milestone event-- the small cloud the size of a man's hand. It all began with a public contest of power between two conflicting spiritual forces who claimed supremacy and exclusive control over the land: the God of the universe and the gods of Baal. The event took place on Mount Carmel, located on a coastal mountain range in northern Israel, stretching from the Mediterranean Sea towards the southeast, what is now the city of Haifa.

The challenge was made to God's servant, Elijah, in the third year of a famine. God ordered Elijah to appear before Ahab and to inform this pagan king that He, God, would send rain upon the earth. All of the nation showed up and Elijah asked them, 'How long will you waver?" Then he performed a dramatic miracle right before their eyes in which the God of Elijah had a great victory. But there was still no rain. Why not? God's work called for a servant catalyst.

Jewish tradition holds that Elijah's servant, whom he sent to look out for the rain, was that catalyst – a 4/14er,1 the son of the widow of Zarephath, whom Elijah resurrected from the dead. One time after another Elijah sent this servant to see if he could catch a glimpse of a cloud in the sky. And sure enough, on the seventh time, his servant boy returned and told him, "I saw a little cloud about the size of a man's hand rising from the sea." Then Elijah the prophet shouted to Ahab the King, "Climb into your chariot and go back home. If you don't hurry, the rain will stop you!" This one 4/14er had catalyzed both the prophet of God and the pagan king of his day.

The first milestones of the 4/14 Initiative have been like rainfall on the barren land of this world. As we consider the milestones of the 4/14 Initiative, we are considering the catalytic events centered on those committed to mobilizing, networking, resourcing, training, and helping the next generation.

We have cause to rejoice and to give thanks to God. The 4/14 Steering Committee chairman, Bambang, noted: "I am very encouraged to see the acceleration of the 4/14 window movement all around the world."[2]

There are many milestones we could report on and each of you may think of some that caused you to engage in the 4/14 Movement. With limitations of time, space and perspective, this presentation offers accounts of small beginnings like the cloud Elijah saw, the size of a man's hand, that offer the promise of new generational blessings to come.

I. First Milestone: 4/14 Window Steering Committee and the designated track facilitators, June 11 , 2009 — A Clarification of Commitment

The purpose was to set the stage for the 414 Window Mission: to define the nature of the commitment, the standards for determining the milestone achievements of the 414 and to plan for the first 4/14 Global Summit.

In the first session we came together seeking to maximize the transformational impact of 4/14ers while they are young, and to mobilize them the rest of their lives. We asked and sought answers to two basic questions: what does it mean "to maximize the transformational impact" of 4/14ers? and how do we know when we have accomplished our vision? We opened our hearts and minds to the idea of reaching and raising up a new generation from within that vast group of humanity to be mobilized as agents of transformation throughout the world.

To maximize the transformational impact of the 4/14ers, we recognized the need to address seven challenges: the spiritual, mental, physical, relational, economic, and social issues the children face as well as their "ministerial poverty"—the scarcity of opportunities for them to exercise their gifts and achieve their potential in ways that honor God and advance His Kingdom. Our goal was to mobilize the church and other spheres of cultural influence in society in every region and country. This included the media, business, the arts and sports, education, family and government. It also required the collaboration with other Christian movements andassociations.

The second basic question we asked was: How do we know when we have accomplished our mission? The answer? "To the extent that the 4/14 Initiative catalyzed a vision for the 4/14ers in the Body of Christ worldwide."

The key word is catalyze. The Free Dictionary definition of catalyst is ". . . something that causes an important event to happen." Humanly speaking one of the most important examples of a catalyst is an enzyme, which speeds up reactions in our human body by releasing energy.

[2] Bambang Budijanto, personal communication, May 3, 2016

This definition fits precisely what was on our hearts and minds as we gathered for that first consultation with God and one another. We wanted to release energy to the body of Christ to raise up a new generation from the 4/14 Window to transform the world. Our goal was not to build an organization but rather to spawn a movement.

Functioning as a catalyst for the movement of God requires a new way of thinking. As Shiferaw Michael said:

> There are things on which earthly measuring equipment and mechanisms, however efficient and accurate they may be, just do not serve the purpose. They are just inappropriate. One such case where they can't serve us well is in measuring the contribution of the 4/14 Window Movement in envisioning, equipping and challenging the Bride of Christ about the critical importance of children in God's agenda.

We recognized we were servant catalysts of God's schema. God is the Prime Catalyst of the 4 to 14 Window Movement, as Tom Victor has reminded us.[3]

It was God who promised to "turn the hearts of the fathers to the children and the children to the fathers" (Malachi 4:6 and Luke 1:17). God is the ultimate father and is calling his servants to "join him on his mission. When God's people respond to his heart and assignment, he anoints them by the power of the Holy Spirit, providing them a divine capacity to fulfill his mission.

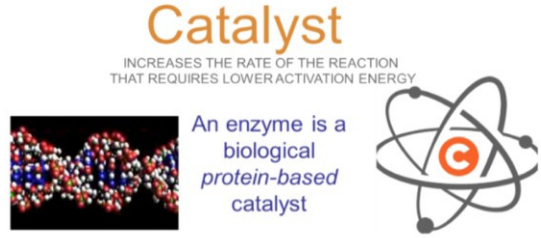

We felt called to a great catalytic challenge! Could we, as the 4/14 Window Movement, become a catalyst in the Body of Christ adding energy as the role of enzymes do in the body of a human being? Could we serve in the same way as biological catalysts that accelerate the rate of virtually all the chemical reactions within cells by well over a million-fold? Only by the Holy Spirit! In effect, the Holy Spirit operates as a catalyst, acting on God's servants, the reactants, to release and increase anointed energy to fulfill the mission. We recognize that it is only as we are filled, controlled and consequently led by the Spirit that we can function as catalysts on God's mission to the children of the world.

II. Second Milestone — the Ethiopian 4/14 Window Summit, July 24-25, 2009

Children as Solution became a model for other nations in Africa and beyond. In the words of Shiferaw Michael, founder and director at the Child Development Training and Research Centre in Ethiopia, . . . the 4/14 window Ethiopian Summit unveiled a readiness to become a "Phillip" for other nations of Africa and the world, having received the revelation of Children as Solution[4] and having begun to take practical steps toward its implementation. Having heard the voice of our eternal Father about his heart for children and ministry to them, the prophetic message for the Ethiopian church to keep pressing on in bringing solutions to the nation and beyond with due emphasis to "children as solution" as well as the vision of raising up a new generation from the 4 -14 window to transform the world.

There was joyous unity by representatives of 28 out of the 31 member evangelical denominations of the Evangelical Churches Fellowship of Ethiopia (ECFE) in recognizing the Ethiopian Evangelical Churches' awareness on the importance of children and their augmented commitment for child ministry. They celebrated the strategic initiatives such as The Covenant of the Ministry to Children, The Child Development Training and Research Center and the strategic potential of the Ethiopian Evangelical Church. They recognized the existence of supportive and resourceful para-church organizations and the encouraging steps the Ethiopian government is taking regarding children's issues.

Convinced of the strategic importance as well as potential of children to bring about holistic transformation in our society and beyond, they also celebrated the challenges the new generation is facing, and they affirmed the biblical promises that the "soon" Ethiopia, as stated in Psalm 68:31 "Envoys will come from Egypt; Cush (i.e. Ethiopia) and will submit herself to God."

The Ethiopian Evangelical Churches resolved to amplify their commitment to holistic child ministry as well as the efforts to implement child ministry initiatives in raising up a new generation to transform Ethiopia, and beyond. They committed to collaborate for efficient and effective ministry to children within Ethiopia and to call the world wide church to embrace and implement the 4-14 window initiatives including the establishment of a global network to develop a collaborative spirit for effective and efficient utilization of resources in raising a new generation. They expressed a global catalytic mission to systematically document and share their experiences to the church in Africa and worldwide as well as to continue learning from them.

III. Third Milestone: The 4/14 Window Global Summit I, New York, 2009 — A Clarion Call

Christian leaders launched the 4/14 Window Initiative on September 7, 2009 at 5:30 a.m. during a morning prayer meeting. More than 1,000 people – conference attendees and members of Promise Church, where the event was taking place – took part in the morning gathering.

Three hundred and fifty Christian leaders participated from 70 countries of the world in the days that followed. When Pastor Nam Soo Kim presented the case for a 4/14 missional initiative in that first global gathering, he noted that in all the major mission's conferences of Christian history he found none that addressed the needs of the children as a priority of the church. It was a clarion call to catalyze a movement that would bring awareness to the need for a global initiative to respond as the body of Christ to the needs of the children of the world.

We gathered with a threefold purpose:

- To better understand the needs, the nature, and how to nurture the 4/14 age group;
- To address the challenge of raising them up to transform the world;
- To consider how to work together to maximize the 4/14ers global transformational impact.

This was a working conference in which the participants discussed models and methods to accomplish the threefold purpose.[5] We left the event with a growing understanding of the nature and enormity of the challenge of raising up the four to fourteen-year old's from spiritual, mental, physical, relational, economic, social and ministry poverty to maximize their transformational impact throughout the remainder of their lives.

Pastor Nam Soo Kim, who acknowledges the Lord as the founder of the 4/14 Window Movement, gave us all who were inspired by the Global Summit in NY a good example by catalyzing the Assemblies of God (AOG) denomination with approximately 60 million members worldwide. As a member of their leadership team for many years, his letters of invitation to national leaders worldwide for both the 2009 Global Summit in New York as well as the Best Practices Summit informed AOG leadership worldwide about the 4/14 window initiative. Pastor Kim challenged 7,000 AOG church pastors worldwide, in India, at the 2011 AOG World Congress, creating awareness and growing commitment and engagement with the 4/14 Window Movement such that "thousands of Assembly of God churches have embraced the 4/14 Window Movement."

In similar fashion, field director over The Church of God in Latin America, David E. Ramirez, described how the Church of God models the way in denominational alignment with the 4/14 Window Movement. David reported how the Church of God, in a gathering of 18,000 Church of God leaders, accepted a pro 4/14 window resolution.[6] The Latin American Church of God is now implementing the 4/14 Missional Window in their strategic planning toward 2020, with a clear understanding of its biblical and missional priority.

An article by Rob Hoskins of One Hope, in the AOG Evangel in the Feb 2011 edition titled, Looking Through the 4/14 Window[7], added to a growing awareness of the challenge and the opportunity offered by the 4/14 Window Initiative. We were encouraged to have respected leaders of children's ministries in our midst including Wess Stafford of Compassion and Jack and Dona Eggar of AWANA. There were important developments, which prepared the way for the launching of the 4/14 Window Movement at the Global Summit. In early 2005, Jack Eggar read a copy of Dan Brewster's 1994 paper on the idea of a 4/14 window of opportunity to teach children.[8]

This led to a two-day conference at the Awana main Chicago office in November of 2005. Ninety leaders from 55 ministries and Christian colleges attended. George Barna was the key note speaker. Christianity Today, LifeWay, Child Evangelism Fellowship, Gospel Light, and Awana jointly co-sponsored the event. Awana leadership chose to respond to the unique calling and opportunity by hosting 4/14 Window conferences in a growing number of countries. This began in 2007 in Zambia, Guatemala, and India and their work continues to this day as Awana hosted over 150 4/14 window conferences for pastors and church volunteers in 2015.

The 'Prairie Vision' catalytic impact on the 4/14 window initiative coming out of Wess Stafford's heart cry and battle cry for the little ones, in which he heard a voice asking, "What about all the rest of them?" cannot be overestimated. "This was bigger than Compassion International … This was going to take everything." The mission statement was rewritten: "Compassion exists as an advocate for children." That decision opened the floodgates of noble and notable advocates from Compassion taking vital roles in the 4/14 initiative such as

Menchit Wong, Dan Brewster, Toyditz Cosico, Bambang Budijanto, Jonas Sawadogo, Enrique Pinedo, Mary Mumo, and Thomas Swaroop to name a few.

At the Evangelical Fellowship of Mission Agencies Executive Retreat in 1992, Bryant Myers noted that 85% of people who come to Christ in America, do so between the ages of 4 and 14. It was at the offices of Compassion in Colorado Springs when the term 4/14 Window was used perhaps for the first time at a meeting involving Dan Brewster, Wess Stafford, and Jeff Wood in 1993.

We discussed with Pastor Kim what the host church could do to engage directly in catalyzing the mission of the 4/14 Window Movement following the first Summit in New York. Several models were developed as a result of the 4/14 window initiative to reach, rescue, disciple and release the 4/14ers including the 4/14 Soccer Mission and 4/14 Power House, as well as the drama, His Life.

His Life depicts the life of Jesus from his birth to ascension in a theatrical or musical genre and becomes an effective way for world missions to children under 15. The show played in two African countries: Ethiopia and Tanzania in 2011, and 100,000 children watched it.

In June 2012, His Life was played in Spanish for the first time in El Salvador, and 35,000 children and their families watched it.[9]

In February 2014, the musical played in Colombia in Spanish, another 35,000 children and teenagers watched it with great attention and enthusiasm. 25,000 children were reached with His Life in China.[10]

4/14 Soccer: Promise Ministries International has been reaching children in a unique way through the 4/14 Window by partnering with a Christian professional soccer team from Korea called the Goyang Hi F.C. (Halleluiah Soccer team). The team consisted of former players from the Korean national team. Events were held at large soccer stadiums in 23 cities so far, and every game has been with a FIFA referee, the official international governing body of soccer.[11]

Friendly soccer matches were played usually by the best of the home teams of the different countries. The 4/14ers showed their enthusiasm often with waves around the stadium. The highlight of the activities was the presentation of the Gospel to every child present, administering hope in Christ.

We celebrated their presence at the stadiums. This was significant because children are normally not allowed in for soccer games. The soccer events also provided children with cartoon booklets about Jesus Christ, the greatest story ever told, as well as a lunch box and transportation to and from the stadium. Millions of people watched live on their television sets as every activity played out at the stadium. Often the game was shown on TV following the event. Emphasizing good values in the soccer game and half time Christian dance and the witness by the guest team, most children left the stadiums having enjoyed their time in an unforgettable experience with a profound impression from the hospitality, values demonstrated, and Christian witness.

The catalytic impact reached a total of five stadiums in the countries of Nicaragua, El Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras with 11,000 attendees and an estimated TV audience of over 9 million. The second mission reached nine stadiums in the four countries of Honduras, Colombia, Venezuela and Ecuador with 300,000 attendees and estimated TV audience over 100 million. In the third mission, the games were played in S. Korea and Honduras' eight stadiums with 250,000 attendees and an estimated TV audience of 20 million. The sum total was 10 countries, 22 stadiums, 561,000 attendees and estimated TV audience in excess of 125 million people.

4/14 POWER HOUSE: Another outcome of the 4/14 Window Initiative in 2009 was the 4/14 POWER HOUSE started by the host church of the first Global Summit with Herman Mendoza. POWER HOUSE is an exciting, dynamic "FREE" Saturday morning kids' ministry where kids ages 4-14 can grow in the saving knowledge of Jesus Christ. Herman writes, "We incorporate a Children's Church Service, with worship and preaching geared towards their age group. We encourage physical, academic, creative, and spiritual growth. Children face many challenges while growing up, so we provide mentors that give children the encouragement and positive leadership that they need."

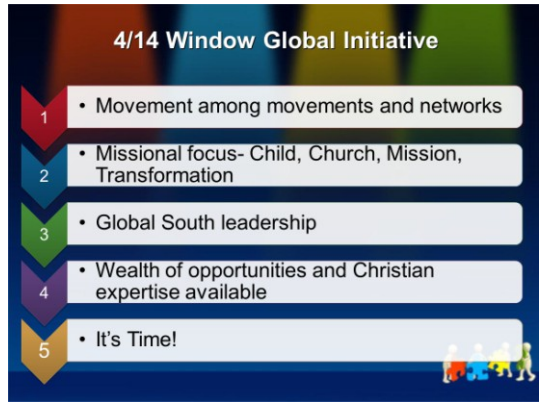

Within seven years Power House Kids in New York has reached over 7,250 children and 8,124 parents who also attend classes such as Parenting class, ESL (English as a second language and Zumba). Thousands of families were reached in such short years, Praise God! Power House 4/14 training has been delivered in eight countries including Spain, Venezuela, Dominican Republic, Chile, Guatemala and Uruguay.

An organization in the Bronx, modeled after Power House, witnesses the Kids experiencing positive change in their lives so fast that the New York Yankees, who implemented the model for reaching children in marginalized neighborhoods, contacted them. The New York Yankees became their number one sponsor. A businessman heard about this, did research on organizations working in the community reaching children and ended up making a multimillion-dollar donation for a community development project dedicated for children. This donation included a new church, a school and low-income housing apartments!

IV. Fourth Milestone: Annual Leadership Retreat—Addis Ababa, Ethiopia April 25-26, 2010 — A Call for Synergy

It was a time for reviewing the model and strategy in an effort to achieving Synergy among 4/14 Global Teams. Dr. Bambang Budijanto reasoned that the "New Kingdom Landscape" requires a new focus on children and youth.

Convincingly presented by Menchit Wong, at the conference we sought to answer the question: "What is the role of the Church in fulfilling God's heart and purpose for children today?" Though she had leadership experience and was a strategic thinker and visionary, Menchit saw herself as "a practitioner in heart, mind and spirit."

At this conference we made significant

Blueprint for raising up a new generation from the 4/14 window

headway:

- We agreed on a vision, mission and strategic building blocks as a blueprint for raising up a new generation from the 4/14 Window;
- We explored the role of facilitation teams, catalytic events and transformational track.
- We embraced the values of prayer, collaboration and integrity;
- We defined the role of national 4/14 window transformational tracks; We encouraged catalytic type 4/14 window events beginning with a national or regional or city based Summit of Church pastors and Christian leaders.

V. Fifth Milestone: Asia Awakening May 6-7, 2010

Asia Awakening to the 4/14 window Challenge in the East was launched as a 4/14 Window Global Conference May 6-7, 2010. There was a total of 1600 leaders attending, including 80 from 22 other nations. We gathered for Korea's launch of the 4/14 Window Movement, transcending denominational, institutional, and positional differences to discuss, pray, and commit ourselves to strategic world missions through children's ministries. The chairman of the World Evangelical Alliance, David Kim, chaired the Conference resulting in the beginning of a collaborative relationship with the regional and national evangelical alliances.

KOREA 4/14 Window Global Conference, May 6-7, 2010
Asia Awakening to the 4/14 Challenge

East Asia Coordinator and later chairman, John Hur said: "By God's grace, Korea declared 2010 to 2020 to be the Initial Decade of the 4/14 Window Movement' with a focus on children ministries.

The Daily Christian Newspaper, Kumin, held a national conference on October 9, 2015 preceded by a major interview fueling the vision and mission of the 4/14 Window Movement in the nation and beyond. They encouraged every other nation to strive to raise up a new generation continuously so that we may witness the Kingdom of God being realized through the transformation of each domain of our society.

In two subsequent years, the challenge made to the Congress of Korea to transform their nation was catalyzed from this event. Other nations were mobilized in Asia with many hosting 4/14 window events in the years to come: Hong Kong, Macau, Indonesia, Japan, throughout India, Nepal for all South Asia, Kazakhstan, and China on different occasions in a number of cities. Hear John Hur on Asia Advancing in the 4/14 window Movement.[12]

West Asia 4/14. Asia was awakening to the 4/14 window Mission not only in the East but also in West Asia and throughout the Middle East. Beginning in four cities of Egypt there were many 4/14 window events sponsored by Dr. Safwat El Baiady in 2011, the President of the Association of the Protestant Churches and Christian schools of Egypt, and also the Honorary Chairman of the Middle East Council. Over the next five years, the 4/14 Mission was catalyzed throughout the region by regional facilitator, Nadia Mansour, who organized a number of significant events.

Even in the heart of war-torn Syria the 4/14 event took place in the presence of the Ministry of Social Affairs with the cooperation of the United Church in Damascus. During an Easter event that was broadcast to the nation, the 4/14 window national facilitator in Syria proclaimed: "God's people celebrate the source of true peace--our Lord the Prince of Peace." The watchword of the celebration was: "Give us our childhood, give us our peace."

South Asia 4/14 window Summit August 28-31, 2012. According to Dr. Alex Phillip, South Asia, 4/14 window facilitator, "The synergy developed in this South Asian region of the world is promising. The event served to be catalytic--building strong inter-personal relationships that focused on common challenges across national borders. Their commitments were heart-warming.

A group of dedicated younger leaders are effectively networking to serve this movement, bringing together Church and Mission leadership to reach out and focus on children. As a result of the South Asia 4/14 window Conference, several dozen strategic ministry partnerships have been forged. They serve multiple thousands of 4/14ers in each South Asian country. Key leadership groups has been set in place to serve the 4/14 with greater focus, vision and commitment."

South Asia: Pakistan– Country Model of A Great Awakening Reports of a growing 4/14 initiative in Pakistan led by Adnan Azhar occurred at a tumultuous time. The Pakistan 4-14 Window National Summit I with 44 organizations and 17 denominations, gathered in the midst of exploding bombs March 4-6, 2010. The Pakistan 4/14 Window National Summit II February 13-16, 2013 in Lahore with 221 participants from 29 denominations and 37 cities. Those who attended the Summit departed with a great joy to spread the 4/14 Window vision in their cities.

One of the outcomes of the Summit was to spread the vision by organizing twelve citywide conference in twelve of the big cities in 2014. "City Children Ministry Networks" took place in

Gujranwala, Peshawar, Rawalpindi, Karachi, Quetta and Faisalabad and six other cities to bring the vision even to the local levels.[13]

Tri Budiardjo, 4/14 Window Executive Secretary, noted the following: "The 4/14 Vision is spreading and going deeper in region after region and country after country and in some nations, such as Pakistan, district by district where literally all districts have been penetrated".

Nepali Summit for 175 leaders took place in Nepali, Sept 21-25, 2012, led by Dhan Raj Ghimire (CaRNet – Nepal), Gajendra Tamang (AWANA), Devanand Kadariya (Teach Nepal). In Nepal, not all children have the luxury of attending school. From primary school age, they are often considered old enough to work and to help support their family. Girls, not considered to be of intellectual value, are often entirely denied the benefits of an education. Trafficking in women and child labor remain serious problems.

South East Asia

The Regional Facilitator, Tri Budiardjo reported thatSouth East Asia 4/14 Window Conference, was held on Act 1-4, 2012, as the follow up action of the Third Global Summit of 4/14 Window Movement Singapore, in 2011. There were 293 participants from 10 countries, including China and Hong Kong. The goal of the Conference is that "The Body of Christ in Asia is mobilized to focus their ministry to disciple children addressing their holistic needs to transform their communities and their nations" with the following objectives:

1. The momentum of 4/14 Window global movement initiative is further pursued in each of 11 SEA Countries to reach and raise more children as agents of transformation.

2. Key church and ministry organization leaders in each of 11 SEA Countries are envisioned, equipped and empowered to dedicate their utmost for the holistic discipleship of children.

3. Foundation for strengthened collaboration among children ministries in SEA Countries is laid.

Following this Regional event, individual countries in the SEA Region held national and sub-regional catalytic events such as in Cambodia, Indonesia, Mekong Sub-REgion, Myanmar, Philippines, Serawak/Malaysia, , Thailand, Viet Nam, etc.

East Asia, China 4/14: Several phases of engagement of 4/14 window mission in China included a conference with Chinese pastors in Hong Kong. Their purpose was to develop a detailed strategy of the 4/14 in China with their own direct involvement. In addition, there were 4/14 window related events in seven cities over a two-year period throughout China to mobilize pastors and church leaders and members. Research done with interviews in China with Christian pastors and leaders led to the publication of a book titled: China's Next Generation: New China, New Church, New World, available at Amazon.com.

China 4/14 window Forum, May 2015: Chinese pastors took the lead in organizing an event for 100 pastors from more 28 cities, 20 provinces and 8 organizations. Wess Stafford, Bambang Budijanto and others made presentations. Twenty youth leaders led the worship and participated providing input and powerful testimonies of their own faith journey.

The leaders of the event reported, "We experienced opposition as we were warned that the electrical power might get cut off after the evening sessions on the first day of the event. This, after we had already moved the venue from the capital to a different municipality. Despite the opposition, we still continued with the program. We shared an extended time for prayer and fasting that first evening."

Despite the opposition, they were not surprised or worried. The international group, joined up with them later and continued the meetings! The last evening, they were up until 2 a.m. praying and committing themselves to the vision, concluding with the decision to organize themselves to carry out the 4/14 mission in China.

4/14 Praise Festival Challenge 60 Cities by 2020 launched in China. At a 4/14 conference in November 2011 in Shanghai, a 4/14 Praise Festival Stream was catalyzed.

Rooted in Matt. 21:15-16 where we read that when the chief priests and the teachers of the law saw the wonderful things he did and the children shouting in the temple courts, "Hosanna to the Son of David," they were indignant. "Do you hear what these children are saying? they asked him." To which he replied: "Yes," and then asked them the question, "Have you never read, "'from the lips of children and infants you have ordained praise'?"

Because of the insight and inspiration from this passage, we suddenly realized the significance of the 4/14 Praise Festival and agreed to collaborate with Myung Kim in the initiative called 4/14 Window New Praise Festival 60 Cities by 2020. We believe that perfect praise in the mouths of children, procures power toward the fulfillment of God's missional purposes.

It was just a dream then, but in just two years the 4/14 Window New Praise Festival has been hosted in fourteen cities including Beijing, Shanghai, Guangzhou, Chengdu, Yentai, Shenchen and Qingdao in China; Rio de Janeiro in Brazil, Seoul, Changwon and Kwangmyung in Korea, Louisville in Kentucky, Melbourne in Florida and Phnom Penh in Cambodia. Now they are almost one-half way to the goal of sixty cities hosting a 4/14 Window New Praise Festival, and on the lips of children the Lord has ordained praise.

VI. Sixth Milestone: 4/14 Window Global Summit II, New York, September 2-5, 2010

Our theme was The 4/14 Window – a New Missional Focus. 350 Christian leaders, representing 70 countries, came together in New York to consider the global needs, challenges and opportunities poised by children between the ages of 4 to 14.

During the three-day conference, Christian leaders from around the world committed to prioritizing the mission to reach, equip and empower the 4/14 generation to maximize their transformational impact while they are young, and continue to impact the world for Christ for the rest of their lives.

In the first 4/14 Window Summit, the emphasis had been on why the 4/14 Window Global Initiative. The focus in the second 4/14 Window Summit was on how to work together in functional tracks and geographic regions in order to maximize transformational impact of 4/14ers while they are young and mobilize them for continuing impact for the rest of their lives.

One of the catalytic outcomes was the clarification and further definition of the tracks. Along with a pastors' track, a robust Academic and Theological Track (ATT) was initiated, led by Dan Brewster, Jesudason Jeyaraj, and Sunny Tan with Rosalind Tan of Malaysia Baptist Theological Seminary (MBTS) who have been very instrumental in pioneering and spreading Holistic Child Development academic program in South East and East Asia in particular. The ATT consisted of leaders representing seminaries, Bible Colleges and other Christian academic institutions. The purpose of the ATT is to create a global movement of academic programs in Holistic Child Development (HCD) to equip the future church to value the 4/14 Window generation and empower them to transform their world.

The Christian Forum for Child Development in India, founded by Dr. Jeyaraj, promotes HCD curriculum, courses, faculty training, and resource development for the training of pastors, NGOs and seminary students. A very important aspect of this network became facilitating the Academic and Theological Transformation Track of 4/14 window in Global summits. We are grateful that HCD training and educational programs are sustaining the vision and ministry to and with 4/14 children as a follow up strategy. One of the catalytic outcomes of the second NY Global Summit was the commitment to 4/14 window by Mark McClendon who would champion the cause as only he could. Mark set up a website for the 4/14 Window Movement which hosts many videos and resources.[14] Google "4/14 window, Its Time to Wake Up" or "4-14 Window Its Time to Wake Up", and you get 646,000 results!

An open forum discussion around outcome-based transformation, led by Chad Causey of One Hope, considered the findings of research among 152,000 youth from 40 countries. The study was titled, The Attitudes and Beliefs of Youth[16], and it painted a picture of the values, lifestyles, beliefs and behaviors of teens as told by the teens themselves. The discussion considered the indicators of change common to programs in various countries with an emphasis on developing instruments to measure the changes that can occur when children encounter Jesus. OneHope's research results were published on their website.[17]

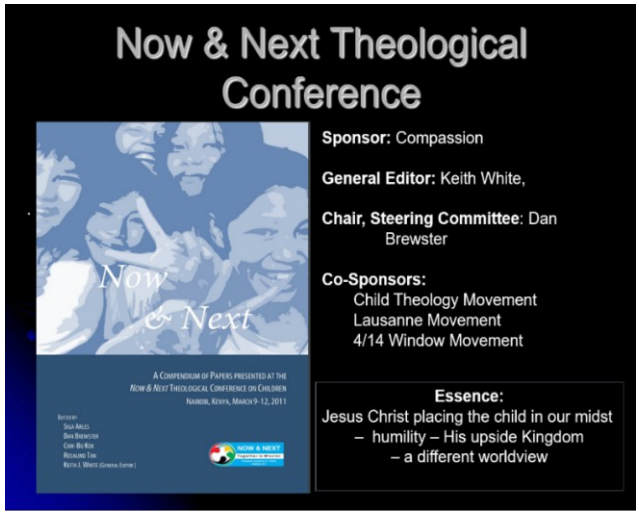

The ongoing discussion around outcome-based transformation has become asignificant catalyst for reflecting on the goal of transformational impact in the sevenspheres of society: family, politics, education, media, business, church, and the arts. In Colombia, calls arose from authoritative media spokesmen for outcome based transformation in response to OneHope's research done in partnership with the Ministry of Education. Government officials convened a meeting to receive the report of the Columbian teens. There was shock when they learned two related realities of their youth. First, "The average father in Colombia spends less than one hour per week with their adolescent child", and second, almost one of our every four teenagers reported considering suicide in the three months prior to taking the survey.

4/14ers in Colombia and beyond are calling for the hearts of the fathers to turn to their children and the hearts of the children to their fathers. A skeptical journalist critic surprised participants at the meeting by responding favorably to the findings of the report. He headlined what he saw as the most serious need facing the youth of his nation in the main secular newspaper the following day, writing, "The average father in Colombia spends less than one hour per week with their adolescent."

This emphasis has led to the beginning of outcome-based transformation with the body of Christ. Beginning with a research-based transformative diagnostic to identify the root of symptoms, accounting for social needs and heartfelt needs; ministry programs are being designed to achieve real and lasting change in the lives of the nextgeneration.

VII. The Seventh Milestone, Now & Next Theological Conference on Children, Nairobi, Kenya, March 9-12, 2011

Co-sponsored by the 4/14 Movement with the Lausanne Movement and Child Theolog y Movement, respected theologians from around the world enthusiastically participate. The purpose was to do "sustained and serious theological and missiological reflection in which children and young people are seen as agents of God's mission…"

A compendium of papers was presented by capable scholars. Keith White, chair of the Child Theology Movement served as General Editor. Siga Arles, a catalyst of the 4/14 Movement in India and Holistic Child Development (HCD), summarized the essence of the conference. We are going to miss Siga as he recently passed away.

The co-sponsorship of the Child Theology, Lausanne and 4/14 Window Movement gave us hope for future collaboration. Dan Brewster served as chair of the Steering Committee and concluded by noting the "very remarkable truths about the child in Scripture, and especially about the child whom Jesus placed in the midst"[18]

VIII. The Eighth Milestone wasthe 4/14 Global Summit III held in Singapore from September 6-9, 2011

More than 1,000 leaders and representatives from 93 countries gathered in Singapore at the Victory Family Centre. Participants at the Summit were charged up viewing "This Changes Everything" video.[19]

Rev. Petrus Nawawi, from Indonesia said: "The 4/14 Window Global Initiative has become a global movement." From peering through the 4/14 Window to pioneering in the 4/14 Window Initiative we now begin partnering in the 4/14 window movement. Outcome commitments emerged for catalyzing pastors, churches, seminaries, families, a Christian worldwide movement, and a World Without Orphans.

Engaging pastors' outcome: The Summit host pastor, Rick Seaward, when first approached about providing servant catalytic leadership to the pastors' track wrote, "Let me share my heart with you; I feel a real burden for this whole area of the 4/14 window. Just yesterday as I was meditating on it, I began weeping again. I don't understand/know everything about this, but I know this is on God's heart." Pastor Rick set the example of engaging pastors when he convened a Senior Pastors Conference III, March 28-30, 2011. His goal was to get the Pastors "on board" with the vision of the 4/14 window movement. The conference was followed by a two-day forum for the pastors and their Children's Pastors, lay ministers and board members/elders. During this follow-up forum, the first day focused on the 4/14 Window Movement within the church, and then the second day they focused on the 4/14 Window Movement outside the church.

For the 4/14 Global Summit in Singapore, David Oginde, a lead pastor in Uganda, developed a strategic plan for the 4/14 window pastor's track with a call for the central role of the local church in the Window 4/14 Initiative.[20]"Anatole Glukhovskyy, a Christian leader from Ukraine and Eurasia returned from Singapore to Kiev and shared with the Salvation Church, which has over 4,000 members, that "without children you cannot expand the Kingdom." The church decided to make children's ministry a key priority: they designated some of their best leaders to serve children and youth, allocated budget for this work, and implemented effective programs. Among the encouraging results of this shift was a significant increase in numbers of children involved in ministry. Salvation Church demonstrated a practical model of how a church can be strategic in reaching, rooting, and releasing children. As a result of their example, other churches are taking seriously children in the Ukraine.

Engaging national and denominational Christian leaders with a 4/14 Operational Plan resulting in the catalyzation of a continent and a Movement of the Christian Church

At the 4/14 Window National Facilitators' Forum of Pastors and Christian Leaders, Ricardo Luna reported how thousands of pastors in Latin American had signed covenants to reach children.

He proposed a 4/14 window global operational plan called, "The Plan 500, 50, 5", which encourages the following:

- REACH: Encourage local churches to reach 500 children and youth in one year as we connect them with partners and supply them with the tools to do so;
- RESCUE: Mobilize partners to rescue the most vulnerable;
- ROOT: Connect discipleship ministries with local churches to root 10% of those reached or 50 of the 500;
- RELEASE: Support the local church in its efforts to release 1% of those rooted, which would be 5 of the 500 children reached that year, to become partners in mission.

Participants returning from Singapore to their nations in Latin America encouraged other pastors and Christian leaders. Ricardo reported that that by 2013, 136 leaders had participated in 4/14 window events in 19 countries in Latin America with 63, 266 covenants signed, committing to reach, rescue, root and release the children.

Rick and Becky Olmstead returned from Singapore to the U. S. convinced that God was moving globally on behalf of kids. They became aware that God's heart and their desire was to spread his Kingdom in and through kids. They sensed that God was calling them to mobilize not just their local church, but the Vineyard movement in the US and beyond. Unknown to Rick Olmstead, God had supernaturally set up a divine appointment when Rick made a decision to join his wife, Becky, at the 4/14 Window Leadership Summit in Singapore in September 2011.[21] Rick said, "As the conference unfolded I became intrigued by the vision of the 4/14 Window Movement because it explores how the words and actions of children can release the Kingdom of God and expresses one of our core values: Everyone gets to play!"

Tom Victor returned from Singapore to facilitate 4/14 window in U.S. with a focus on the local church. He set a goal to see the 4/14 Window Movement take root at the local church and local community levels.[22] The question he began asking the church was this, "What would happen if leaders across the city began to work together towards the goal of raising up an army of world-changer children?"

Coming out of Singapore there were commitments to deeper and broader engagement of the church and various levels:

Engagingseminaries

The Academic and Theological Transformation (ATT) Track, led by Dr. Dan Brewster, Dr. Sunny Tan, Dr. Rosalind Lim Tan, and Dr. Jesudason Jeyaraj, seeks to transform seminaries and theological institutions with 'the child in the midst" paradigm.

The Track with some 50 seminarians and theologians from around the world meeting agreed on:

1. The need to provide seminaries with real-world relevance in content and focus, enabling them to equip children's ministry workers to advocate forchildren;
2. The need to provide the Church with new theological understandings of the significance of the child, and to view church, ministry and society through the lens of the child;
3. The need to help ministry and mission groups see children as a fruitful mission field and potent mission force;
4. The need to provide academic and theological support for the child-focused emphases of organizations, movements and initiatives such as Lausanne, World Evangelical Alliance and 4/14 Window.

With quality publications and networking Dan Brewster catalyzed the Global Alliance for Advancing Holistic Child Development[23], affirming the value of children. The HCD Global Alliance is a voluntary group of seminaries, Bible schools, and other Christian academic institutions working together with researchers, trainers, practitioners, and other Christian leaders to create a global movement of academic programs in holisticchild development (HCD).

Engagingfamily

Rick Seaward perceived the need for a family track and introduced Matthew Ling, pastor from Malaysia who became the facilitator with his wife Rose, of the family track of the 4/14 Movement.[24]

Engaging a World Without Orphans' track outcome

Several Christian leaders from North Asia participated, and in the process of discussion, embraced a vision for a World Without Orphans track of the 4/14 Movement, facilitated by Ruslan Maliuta.[26] Susan Hillis clarified and explained the Global Orphan Crisis.[27]

Engagingmedia

LaReau Anderson defined the goals of media for the 4/14 Window Movement; encouraged the church to embrace global smart phone trends, social networking, Facebook, Twitter, and other new and emerging technology. See the interview related to the Goal of Media in the 4/14 Window Movement by LaReau Anderson,[28] Why do we Need Media?[29]

The challenge the church faces in addressing the media: Develop relationships, both personal and organizational, among media professions that will have long-lasting and far-reaching impact for the 4/14ers; Develop strategies to identify and/or establish formal and informal networks, in all regions of the world, to utilize media through local Christian and secular channels; Develop strategies for training and equipping media makers around the world.

IX. The Ninth Milestone Awakening of the Sleeping Giant of Africa, March 2012

At the regional launch of 4/14 among the French speaking countries of Africa, hosted in Burkina Faso by the facilitator of the 4/14 Movement in the Francophone countries, Jonas Robert Sawadogo said:

"This is a historic moment for our country. It is the beginning of a new era." Brother Jonas Sawadogo spoke about how the 4/14 Window Movement is expanding in French-speaking Africa and how it is transforming children lives in churches, homes, schools, prisons, hospitals and in other communities.[30]

The Board of the Association of Evangelicals in Africa (AEA) and the 4/14 Window facilitators and servant catalysts joined hearts and minds in commitment to raise up a new generation from the 4/14 Window to transform Africa in 2012.

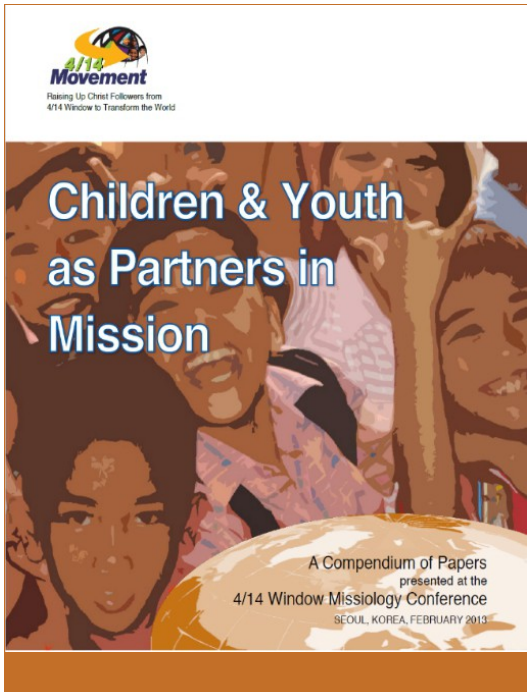

"There is a sleeping giant arising in French speaking Africa," was the declaration made at the opening ceremony presided over by the President of the Federation of Churches and Missions (FEME) of Burkina Faso and chairman of AEA, Samuel Yameogo, as the children were looking over his shoulder: " Mario Li Hing (Executive Chair of AEA) from French-speaking, Mauritius, noted that this was a historic moment as for the first time the chairman and general secretary of AEA are both French-speaking.

Aiah Foday- Khabenje, Association of Evangelicals in Africa, General Secretary from Kenya said: "The 4/14 Window Movement is a call for the church to place children in the way of God and His mission. That's what Jesus did. He put the child in the midst."

President of the Assemblies of God of Burkina Faso, Michel Ouedraogo, said: "Francophone Africa will no longer be the same. Children will be blessed. They will be included in the plan of God. The name of the Lord will be glorified." Many different countries in Africa held 4/14 events with collaborative engagement of the church made commitments to prioritize their focus on the children in July 2014. These ministries and organizations include the Evangelical Fellowship of Zambia (EFZ), the Zimbabwe Heads of Christian Denominations (ZHOCD), the African Evangelical Association (AEA), the Southern region Evangelical Fellowships of Angola, Malawi and Zambia, the General Secretary of African Evangelical Association (AEA), Rev. Aiah Foday-Khabenje, and Compassion International.

[31] http://test.transform-world.net/transformations-in-europe-and-africa/

Another example of collaboration was seen in the 4 / 14 Window Movement, Har are Commitment[31], in which, as the Body of Christ in the nation of Zimbabwe, participants committed to prioritizing, pursuing and practicing the reaching, rescuing, rooting and releasing of the 4/14 Generation.

X. The Tenth Milestone, the 4/14 Window Missiology Conference, February 2013

The 4/14 Window Missiology Conference was a great success. There had been controversy prior to the conference. Concerns were raised about giving any role to children in mission out of a fear that this could lead to child exploitation.

Dr. Bambang affirmed a breakthrough in our understanding the potential of children as our partners in mission when he wrote, "That controversy may well have aided the success of the conference because, in my view, some presenters showed sensitivity to the concerns that had been raised earlier."

The press release written by David Scott, summarized the breakthrough concept as follows:

The conference affirmed the importance of children in mission – not just as objects of missional concern, but as agents of mission as well. The focus was on identifying children's natural missional engagements and encouraging the development of their unique, individual capacities rather than expecting children and youth to adopt 'adult' forms of mission. Ethical concerns around releasing children to do holistic mission were also considered, and the importance of seeing and respecting children not in isolation, but as part of families, churches and communities was emphasized."

The last word went to Conference Chairman, Dr. Bambang Budijanto:

The conference gave us a strong sense that a new missiology where children and youth are essential to missions is on the horizon. To see this fulfilled, the church needs to release children and youth to fully engage in God's mission of disciple making and transformation.

The 4/14 Window Missiology Conference, created a watershed moment of collaboration and significant traction among global church leaders, missiologists, theologians, and ministry practitioners about the vision and missiological framework of the 4/14 Window global initiative. We are engaged in "Raising up of a New Generation from the 4/14 Window to Transform the World - the Jesus Way."

Steered by Dan Brewster[32], the conference championed the cause of the children and youth as partners in mission. It urged a missional focus among practitioners with intentionality and effectiveness among academic institutions and seminaries. The compendium of papers produced by the conference entitled Children and Youth as Partners in Missions explored three perspectives on God's purpose specifically relating to mission to, for and with children and young people today.

[33]https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Dcqh5h8AQf4&index=141&list=PL6SEOeFr8pMEScvzWYOFZtwEV

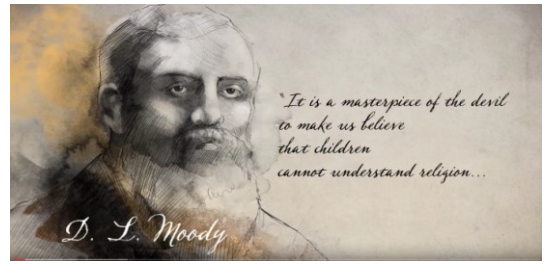

A new missiological framework for the 4/14 Movement described by John Baxter-Brown[33] was the product of the deliberations following the presentations. Eight points outlined the new missiology as follows:

1. Mission must be biblical and theological;
2. Mission must be informed by children and young people through the stories they tell and through research;
3. Children are vital participants in the church and in missions. They are not a target audience to boost church numbers;
4. The family relationship should echo the relationship within the Trinity, of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. There is authority but power is not grasped;
5. Mission must be informed by the example and teaching of Jesus;
6. Mission requires having a heart for children;
7. Children need to learn how the story of their lives become part of the story of Jesus;
8. Mission is dependent on the Holy Spirit.

XI. The Eleventh Milestone, the 4/14 Window Summit IV, Bangkok, Thailand, from Oct. 15–18, 2013

With the topic "Rooted and Released," the Global Summit IV in Bangkok, Thailand focused on how to disciple and partner with 4/14ers in God's mission. Over 900 participants met according to their areas of expertise (tracks) as well as by regions. They concluded that it is imperative that we not wait to train children to be rooted in God's word or released into ministry. Rather, as an integral part of their equipping and spiritual development, children should be given opportunities partner with their older brothers and sisters to grow in God's word and serve in His Kingdom.

The catalytic impact of the Summit came primarily as a result of the production of over 1,200 video resources in 53 languages. These videos were created by the explainED team and under the supervision of the conference director, Mark McClendon of CBN, with the contribution of MJ Perry. The videos served as tools in the hands of local pastors and ministry leaders to engage the church in their languages and countries with the mandate of the 4/14 Window to root and release a generation. See Appendix A - Sample of the online resources featured at ExplainEDtv. These resources include Steering Committee Chairman Bambang Budijanto on the history of the 4/14 Movement and Conference Chairman Mark McClendon as he shares his heart in this Global 4/14 Window Summit IV.

XII. The Twelfth Milestone—the Commitment to Collaborate with Christian Movements in our mission to, for and with the children, March 12, 2014

Recognizing that we are in a new season which calls for a new mindset, Menchit Wong wrote:

In thinking about the Holy Spirit's work across regions, continents and movements around the world, what I am sensing is His wave, where His people are increasingly willing to be humbled and are learning to work in unity. . . Movements and ministry organizations are behaving differently; now more willing to blur divides, offer more, share the load and the credit…[34]

The 4/14 Movement leaders concurred with the proposition put forward by Menchit Wong and Anne Christine Bataillard, Lausanne Senor Associations for Children. We affirm three propositions for ministry to and with children by 2020 in collaboration with the Lausanne Movement, the World Evangelical Alliance, the Transform World Movement and the Children's Forum asfollows:

1. By 2020, the leadership of global movements embrace the significance of children in the mission and work of global evangelization. Evangelization, discipleship and holistic ministry with, children are integral to the philosophy, strategy documents and global action plans of movements/networks and other issue groups of the Lausanne Movement. (Indicators: increase in theological discussions, dissemination of biblical resources, increase in partnering projects; documents showing decadal emphasis on children by denominations and global movements.);

2. By 2020, evangelization and holistic discipleship of children has been accelerated in all countries of the world, through the provision of innovative training resources and strategies that are Open-Sourced, contextually relevant, replicable, and available in every major city and major language of the world. These equipping resources and strategies have the capacity to reach children in every nation with the Gospel of Jesus Christ. (Indicators: quality of resources, geographical reach and testimonies of impact on children's lives across the world);

3. By 2020, holistic nurture and ministry of local churches with children who are at risk and in poverty, have increased and improved the quality of well-being of children's lives in the Majority World. Global action groups are established among Lausanne issue groups and other networks/movements for high-level engagement and grassroots actions. There is a growing global force of young Christian leaders coming from underprivileged communities who testify about their individual and community transformation. They emerge as child advocates to promote holistic and active response toward poverty and risks of children. (Indicators: presence of action plans in countries and regions; quantity and quality of collaborative initiatives with needy and at-risk children.)

We recognize it is a time for exploring a convergence of networking to transmit multiple data formats. How can the 4/14 Movement contribute to a spirit of collaborations with Lausanne, World Evangelical Alliance, Transform World Connections, the PentecostalWorld Fellowship, the Global Children Forum and other Christian movements? Many are considering this pressing question. Dr. Arto Hämäläinen, Chairman of the World Missions Commission/Pentecostal World Fellowship of Pentecostal churches, and groups around the world met in September 2016 and wrote: "We discussed about the priorities in the future. We were in full unity to put children as a priority. The next generation issues are on the top of our agenda."[35]

XIII. The Thirteenth Milestone was the Best Practices Summit, New York, October 2014

The 4/14 Window Best Practices Summit offered practical insights to more than 1,100 participants from ninety-one countries over the course of six days from October 10 to 16, 2014. Hosted by Pastor Nam Soo Kim and Promise Church in New York, the 4/14 Window Best Practices Summit left all of us an unforgettable model of servanthood. Geovanna León from Ecuador wrote, "This really has been a blessing of God. I received affection, care, attention and hospitality. You have reminded me that the kingdom of heaven belongs to the children. You have taught me about generosity with all that you have."

Jesus was presented as the champion of the 4/14 Window Best Practices. It is Jesus, by his own example, who showed us the way to reach, rescue, root in the Word of God and release the children on the mission of God who he declared "of such is the Kingdom of heaven." Jesus modelled for us what it means to be servant catalysts as change agents with a moral purpose, acting with intention and enthusiasm, resulting in lasting change on earth, regarding children from being objects of small value to subjects of great worth.

Jesus based his mission to children on the Scriptures. The anchor verse for the 4/14 Initiative has been Psalm 8:2, which Jesus quoted a few days before he went to the cross. "Through the praise of children and infants you have established a stronghold against your enemies, to silence the foe and the avenger." The Lord Jesus overcame His enemies by the marvel of the "little ones" who ultimately silence Satan.

We begin our understanding and practice of mission with the celebration of Jesus as our foundation in the 4/14 Movement. He is the author and finisher of our faithful action, walking in His footsteps on His mission to and for the children of the world.

Participants at the Best Practices Summit

[35] Arto Hämäläinen, Personal Correspondence, September 14, 2016

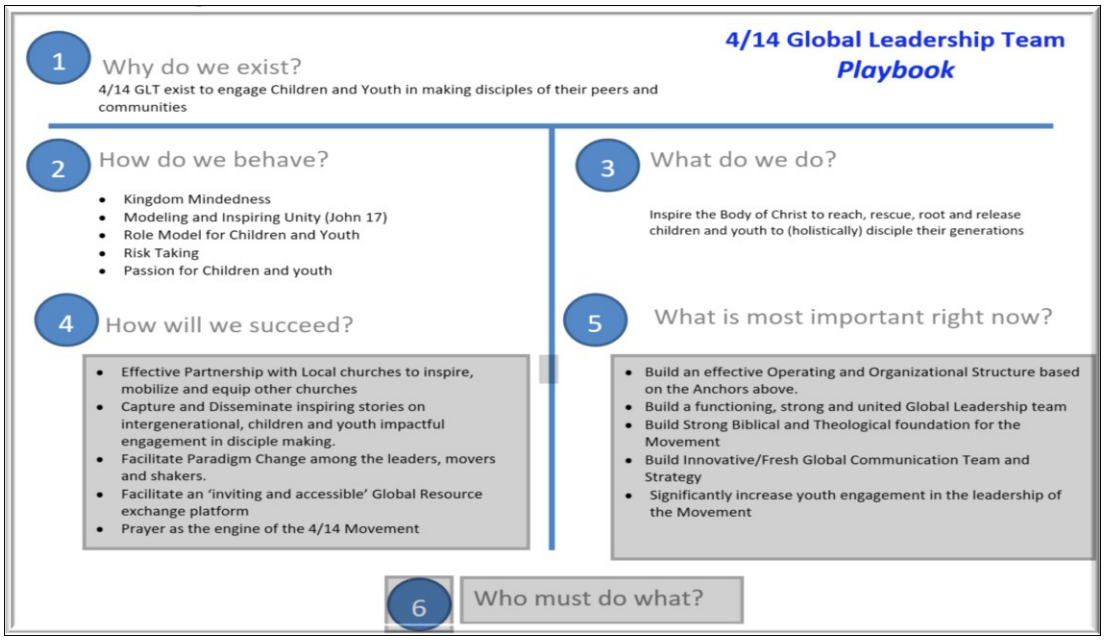

documented forty-six best practices, each of which included the following parts: Identify the Need (State of the Children); Primary Outcome or Objective (What will look differently by 2020), Ministry Plan (the Emerging Process), Ministry Tools I have to Share, and one testimony. Some of these best practices recognized included Holistic Child Development (HCD).

A best practice for catalyzing the 4/14 Movement in a region of the world was presented by Mary Mumo with emphasis on the mobilization of regional stakeholders in English-speaking Africa for the 4/14 Window Movement. Her stated primary outcome was a spiritual, healthy, safe and educated 4/14 generation to transform Africa and beyond. The ministry principles included the following: promote surveys and research and information sharing and knowledge creation, develop various stakeholders to be part of the meeting, provide high levels of representative from other bodies of the Church, develop a percentage of the target group 4/14 participating in the proceedings of our 4/14 Window deliberations. In her ministry plan, she included the following resource mobilized and initiative marketing for Uganda, Kenya, Zimbabwe and Swaziland, Rwanda, Ethiopia, seeking 200 4/14 Window leaders for each country by 2020.

The Story of Jesus Booklet by Cook Outreach and The Story of Jesus App with 30 million copies distributed throughout the 4/14 network makes these an outstanding 4/14 success story.

Launched at the 4/14's Best Practices Conference in New York in October 2014, by Candy Marballi[36], The Prayer Covenant for Kids has catalyzed Christian leaders in twenty countries on three continents to engage and disciple more than 200,000 children in less than two years, using a simple prayer tool that empowers discipleship, transformation and evangelism. Whether a child is just learning to pray or is a prayer warrior, as they daily pray this prayer of surrender and obedience, "Jesus, I want to follow you as my Lord, change me any way you want," God is not only hearing their prayers but answering them by raising up a generation of Daniels, Samuels, and Esthers, who are obedient to His voice.

"I believe the Children's Prayer Covenant will impact the entire world," writes Ametepeh Apetogbo, our Prayer Covenant 4/14 leader for the Africancontinent.

Candy Marballi says, "We passionately believe the children of this generation will be a positive force for change as they recognize two important principles: the supremacy of Jesus Christ and Christ-centered prayer covenant partnerships."

XIV. The Fourteenth Milestone was the Leadership Meetings, January 2013 & 2015

At the 2013 4/14 Window Leadership Meeting in Colorado a new playbook was developed which informed and sharpened the 4/14 missional development.

The 2014 4/14 Window Leadership Meeting in Chicago spawned a mobilization group which was facilitated by Toyditz Cosico and included Rick Olmsted and Ricardo Luna. Ricardo shared about the need for an Americas initiative at that time, voicing the communication received from many Latin leaders who wanted more involvement. The plan was presented and accepted conceptually as part of the church mobilization group in 2015. It has now been presented as part of the operational plan 2030, accepted by the leaders based on the mission of reaching, rescuing, rooting in the Word of God and releasing the 4/14ers as partners in mission as follows:

The 4/14 Window Movement: Engage the church in the regions of the 4/14 Window Movement to adopt the "500, 50, 5 plan." That is, to have local churches commit to the following goals from 2015 to 2030:

Reach 500: Connect 375,650 global churches to reach 3,756,497,000 children and youth by 2030. This requires each church to reach 500 children yearly.

Rescue: Encourage local priority rescue ministries to the most vulnerable.

Root 50: Connect global resources to disciple 18,782,485 children and youth yearly in local churches. This is equivalent to 10% of the reach goal.

Release 5: Support local churches in releasing 1,878,249 next generation teams yearly to minister in the church and serve their communities. This is equivalent to 10% of discipleship goal.

XV. The Fifteenth Milestone was the

First Nurturer Conference, April 2015

The first 4/14 Window Asia Pacific Youth Congress integrated youth into the main stream of the 4/14 movement. In 2013 our chairman, Dr. Bambang Budijanto, introduced the "Second Mountain" to climb in the race to activate the 4/14 Window. The Second Mountain involves releasing children and youth into ministry. The 4/14 Window Movement is committed to raising up a new generation of disciple-making nurturers from the youth and the children to transform the world by integrating youth into the mainstream of the Movement and uniting the generations in efforts to disciple youth and 4/14ers. From this new strategic inspiration, the concept of "the Nurturer" was born. A Nurturer is ready to say "I am my brother's keeper."

We recognized that the call to nurture faith in Christ is not limited to church leadership or adults within the church. The Church is God's "Plan A" to bring holistic healing to the world. There is no "Plan B."[37] We reach others by coming alongside them in life-on-life discipleship, as we ourselves grow as we encourage others to grow toward Christ. The catalytic impact from the 4/14 Asia Pacific Youth Congress included the following:

- Youth everywhere passionately giving priority to making disciples of other youth and the 4/14ers in their community;
- Local churches everywhere reflected inter-generational leadership with greater emphasis on empowering youth and adolescence to make disciples of their peers and the 4/14ers in the community;
- Numerous 4/14 forums, training, and other related catalytic events;
- The regionalization of the vision over the next 12 months. As a result of the 4/14 Asia Pacific Youth Congress, the 4/14 Window Global Movement embarked on climbing the "Second Mountain" which engages and empowers youth in a Disciple Making Global Movement of 4/14ers, while continuing to raise awareness among Christian leaders world-wide of the strategic importance of children for the church and mission. The ultimate end result of the Second Mountain vision is that no single child lives without being discipled by someone else.

Reaching toward that vision, the first global forum for youth, youth leaders and senior leaders to cast the vision of engaging youth in disciple making was held in Bali, Indonesia on April 20-24, 2015. More than 650 participants from 53 countries, along with dozens of speakers, facilitators of breakout sessions, a worship team organized by over fifty local organizing committee members, gathered, blended in a joyful, inspiring, transforming experience in an event that exceeded expectations of all.

Tri Budiardjo was dedicated as executive secretary of the 4/14 Movement at the leadership gathering before the First Nurturer Conference. He reported on milestone events held over the preceding two months:

- A 4/14 Window forum for the Western region held for five different provinces of Mongolia;
- 1,000 children participated in Prayer and Worship Day in Ulan Bator, Mongolia;
- The Cambodia National Leadership Team organizing a national 4/14 event with approximately 1,000participants;

- two key events in Europe involving the European Evangelical Alliance in Stuttgart, Germany October and European Youth Ministry Network Summit near Barcelona, Spain;
- Cambodia 4/14 Window Leadership team holding National Conference where 1,000 pastors are expected to participate. Dates are tobe determined.

Other 4/14 Window related events to be held in Africa during the remaining 2015 in Swaziland, Zambia and South Africa.

The Second Asia Pacific Youth Congress anticipating 1,000 youth and youth mentors as well as 300 senior leaders to bless global youth discipleship initiative as the outcome of the Congress October 17-20, 2016.

Since 2011, 4/14 Movement executive secretary, six regional 4/14 Window events, more than 35 national and 34 city/province level conferences were held, with 122 nations represented in those events. Of these 46 were in Africa, 35 in Asia, 21 in Latin America, 11 in the Middle East, 10 in Western Europe, 9 in Former Eastern Europe, 7 in the US and Caribbean.[38]

Conclusion: We thank God for so many that have given so much of their life, time and resources to reach, rescue, raise up and release the children to become God's agents of transformation. Learning how God works from the first seven years how can we best prepare ourselves to partner with God for the next chapter of the 4/14 Window Movement. We have come to believe that the 4/14 Window Movement is a viable platform for maximizing the transformation impact on our world.

We are discoverings the workings of God as we face challenges with regard to the actualization of the mission of the 4/14 Window Movement, for example:

- The fact that there is no global "organization" to support the implementation of the mission in the field;
- The challenge of setting-up committees and support organs or mobilize volunteers on the regional and country levels;
- Lack of budgetary support.

In spite of these challenges, as Shiferaw Michael from the 4/14 Steering Committee these seven years, has noted "there is no doubt that the ministry of children in Africa has been CATAPULTED by the 4/14 Window Movement" for the following reasons:

- The significant contribution of the 4/14 Window Movement in connecting different ministries that work on children, the fruit of which was that many of these have started to work as partners;
- The psychological boost, encouragement, new ideas and challenge children ministries and people working in these ministries got from their participation in the different summits, and the sharing of information among each other;
- There are other more measurable and notable areas to which the Movement has

[38] Tri Budiardjo, Executive Secretary, 4/14 Window Movement, Personal Communication, August 30, 2016

lent significant strengths that I can report based on the Ethiopian experience:

- The number of trained children workers has probably grown over a hundred fold;
- The budget allocated to ministry to children has been growing steadily, in some cases, several folds;
- The number of full-time children's workers, including children/youth pastors has shown phenomenal growth;
- Several churches have remodeled their compounds and church building's to cater to the needs of children;
- Thousands of churches have put measures to protect children from abuse in their administrative systems.

Bambang Budijanto, our 4/14 Steering Committee chairman said: "This is about what God has done through His servants in the past seven years. This is truly God's movement."

Finally, we take note of the lessons learned by His servant Elijah. Elijah was used to turn the hearts of the people back to the Lord (Luke 1:17). We discover the threefold secret to Elijah's boldness that caused him to be a catalyst in his day, nurturing and engaging the 4/14ers of his day as he did that male child he raised from the dead (1Kings 1717-24).

Three things from the life of Elijah that can motivate your life: 1. He believed in the reality of the Lord; 2. He believed he was a representative of the Lord; 3. He believed in the resources of the Lord.

You are being called to diligently seek the Lord and become catalysts on His mission in our day. Dr. Luke said of the one who was to come that "he will go before him in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children."

For our generation that would be a major catalytic achievement. We are called to follow Jesus and walk the light of life John 8:12. "We must work the works of him who sent me while it is day…" John 9:4.

An Introduction to the 4/14 Window

15,154 views 1 year ago

There is a window.. a windows you might like to know about.
Not the kind that lets you look at the sky. It's a window that opens up inside a child's heart - a window of time.
Because over 70% of all decisions for Christ happen during a very precise window - from ages 4 to 14. And those that accept Jesus during this window are more likely to keep the faith.
But thats not surprising, is it?
Even Jesus said, "...unless you become like little children you will never enter the kingdom of heaven."
So here is a great question. If 70% of all decisions for Christ happen during the 4 to ...
